Instructions were issued by the council this week to city attorney Higgins to prepare "Resolutions of Intention" for paving and lighting improvements in the beach districts. The proceedings will include an ornamental lighting system for Newport Avenue, Ocean Beach, and the installation of lights on Garnet Street, Pacific Beach. Further paving of Santa Monica Avenue, Ocean Beach, is also scheduled, while the grading of Del Mar and Coronado awaits investigation of protests. The "Resolution of Intention" (No. 39182), already published, includes Del Monte Avenue from De Foe Street to the ocean front, and Cable Street from Coronado Avenue to West Point Loma Boulevard.

Let's have lighting and more lighting; paving and more paving. For four years "The Beach News" has been persistently and consistently advocating more lights and more paving throughout the beach district, and during that period, slowly but surely the main thoroughfares have been sidewalked and paved and a few arc lights have been installed to brighten up some dark spots. Yet there is an immediate need of more and better lighting in the residential as well as business districts. More or less thickly populated sections are in absolute blackness on moonless nights and arc lights are certainly needed and greatly desired at a dozen or more prominent intersections for the safety and convenience of residents. Let's have lights and more lights!

HOME ECONOMICS

The Home Economics Dept., at P. L. H. S. is starting out the new year full of energy. The girls who take cooking have already made 43 1-2 pint glasses of plum and grape jelly, and orange marmalade and 12 1-2 pints of canned peaches, which they gave to the Children's Home. The Sewing Girls are making nightgowns, knickers, and middie skirts, which will be given to children who need them. The girls are also keeping all the flags in repair by mending them, besides making aprons for the boys and girls who work in the cafeteria.

THE "HI" LIBRARY

The students at Point Loma High School are going to be required to do more library work this year than was required last year. The library had 458 non-fiction library books last year and now the number has been increased to 964 books, a gain of 506 books. Another shipment of fiction books is expected soon. As there are very few collateral reading books in our own library this shipment will be very welcome.

Since the study hall is over crowded four periods of the day the library is used for an overflow study hall these periods, and is already crowded with the students who are looking up subjects of interest.

GIRLS OUTNUMBER BOYS

THE SEAWALL SITUATION

In regard to the seawall we are advised by the City Engineer's office that the plans will be submitted on Monday, October 11, to the Council for final action, provided that a certain deed required from the Mission Beach Company be filed prior to that date, which we are assured by the business manager of the Mission Beach Company he expected to file on Wednesday, October 6th. The city engineer's office also advise that the clause regarding the cement to be used has been corrected, and that there is no reason why there should be any further delay in going ahead with the necessary preliminaries towards getting the work started. This statement will answer the many questions which are continually being asked as to why it is not started. There is no possible reason why it should not be started and no reason why owners should be discouraged. Ocean front lots have been sold within the last sixty days at an advance of a thousand dollars over prices at which same lots were sold in August, 1925, and no friend of the beach will advise any owner to reduce his prices. On the contrary it is believed that prices will go skyward as soon as the wall is finished or even started. A real estate dealer from Pismo Beach remarked the other day, "Get a piece of land on the water front and hold on to it and it will make you wealthy." Another from Santa Monica said, "There is no reason why your water fronts here should not be as high as those in Santa Monica in a very short time," and that means from fifty thousand and upwards.

BEACH HOME BEST OF ALL

Emory Johnson has taken the great hop to Hawaii by the United States Naval Air Forces last summer, and made of this historic enterprise one of the greatest melodramas ever conceived—"The Non-Stop Flight," which is the feature picture for Saturday only, Matinee and Night. It was produced with special co-operation of the United States Navy, and is woven vividly and powerfully against a spectacular background of Naval equipment including dreadnoughts, destroyers, submarines and seaplanes, among them the gigantic PN-9. The picture pays a stirring tribute to Com. John M. Rogers and his crew.

CALIFORNIA NEWS BRIEFS

Fifty tons of apples on a six-acre orchard is the record for L. C. Hallwager of the Woodlake district, who has started harvest on his Delicious variety. The trees are 10 years old, and this year have more fruit than at any time since they came into bearing. The fruit is all of fine, large quality and most of the trees bending low with the apples. On one limb was counted sixty apples, each weighing a pound or more. Two of the apples which Hallwager had picked out for the Tulare county fair and which fell to the ground, measured over 15 inches around and weigh 3½ pounds.

The state railroad commission announced granting of a certificate to the Sierra and San Francisco Power company and the Pacific Gas and Electric company, lessee, authorizing enlargement of the Spring Gap power plant of the former company on the south fork of the Stanislaus river at a cost of $1,950,000. Construction of a new rock filled dam four miles above Strawberry Reservoir, creating what will be known as the Big Dam Reservoir, is proposed. The plant's output would be increased to 5,000,000 kilowatt hours a year.

A course in horsemanship and the care of horses has been made a part of the agricultural course of the Stockton high school this year, according to J. The Laton district lies along the Kings river on rich, productive bottomland and produces large crops in both Fresno and Kings counties.

Valued at $500,000, Kern county will have marketed a hay crop approximating 41,000 tons by the end of the year; it is estimated from figures compiled by E. R. Long, who, with Cross brothers and E. H. Loveland, handles the consignments covering the larger volume of the harvest. On a low market of $12 a ton, 25,000 tons, filling 2,083 cars, and valued at $325,000, have been shipped from the county since January 1. The produce was bought by southern California dealers.

"Many of our orchards were merely plans eight years ago," say the fruit growers of the Planada district near Merced, "and now we command good prices in New York and Chicago markets." The fig trees of the Brouer ranch, yielding three tons to twenty-seven trees, are good examples of eight-year-olds earning fancy prices for fancy fruit. The Kadotas, as big as plums and a cross between a gold and a Nile green color, are at present the most popular on the market.

Among the new industries of the San Gabriel valley is the dehydration of orange peel, mainly used for stock and poultry feed. A plant devoted to this industry is under construction in San Gabriel by the California Citrus Products corporation. The capacity of the new plant will be about five tons of the product a day. This is sold under contract to Texas buyers, it is declared. After dehydration, the peel is ground into a fine meal ready for mixing into balanced stock rations.

William Jones, colored, Marysville, paid a fine of $10 in police court recently on a charge of fighting and then dug into the waste basket in the police station for two Chinese lottery tickets that netted him $18. The tickets were taken from him at his arrest and dumped into the waste basket.

The trustees of Lemoore, Kings county, have set the tax rate in the city for next year at $1.72 and in the Decker and Dingley Additions at $1.44. A decrease in the annual interest payment this year is offset by decreased valuation of unsecured personal property so that the trustees state the tax rate could not be lowered.

The Winters tax rate which last year was $1.90 on the $100 assessed valuation, has been reduced to $1.75, a drop of 15 cents. The drop, according to the Winters city trustees, is due to the fact that the city hall has been completely paid for and that the bonds which have been running since 1915 are now concluded. The city hall cost $12,000.

Owing to the warm weather in the San Fernando section of the San Fernando valley this summer, the Lima bean crop is maturing about twenty days earlier than usual. Ordinarily it requires about 110 days to grow a crop but this season the harvesting is taking place within ninety days. Lima bean gathering is now under way throughout the valley.

Harold Palmer, Exeter, has erected a plant for soda dipping and treatment of raisins on the Ernest Detmer ranch, two miles north of Exeter. In addition to caring for his own crop, Mr. Palmer will do commercial work in processing raisins, he said. Drying fields have been prepared adjacent to the plant. Mr. Palmer expects to handle a large quantity of raisins during the season which is now just starting.

Frank McArthur of Likely, Modoc county, applied to the state division of water rights for a permit to divert four second feet of water from Crooks Canyon Drainage area, a tributary to the South Fork of the Pit River, for irrigation and domestic purposes. The project, the cost of which is estimated at $75,000, also includes the construction of a dam and the storage of 9,000 acre feet. The land to be irrigated from this source totals 4,650 acres.

By CLARISSA MACKIE

(Copyright)

HELEN AMES sighed a little as she watched Blake Pettit dancing with Lucile Forrest. Lucile was a graceful dancer and danced in perfect rhythm with Blake. Helen was a beautiful dancer, too, but Blake never asked her.

"A combination hard to beat," murmured Helen to herself. "You said it," ejaculated a pleasant voice beside her. "Say, you and I appear to be left-overs. Will you dance this with me?"

"Bob! I didn't know you were there," and Helen blushed, for if she admired Blake Pettit, she scorned homely Bob Benson, who could not dance without tramping all over his partner's feet. Helen was quite indignant now that he should classify her as a "left-over".

"Thank you, Bob, but I am tired," she smiled up at him. "I am glad to rest here for awhile."

"I suppose you're dated up for every dance," he said wistfully.

She nodded brightly, but she felt guilty indeed, for she was hoping someone would ask her, and thus rid her of the amused glances of the other girls who passed them every minute or two.

"Poor Helen," she heard Lucile's nasty little laugh as she danced past them with Blake.

"Why 'poor Helen'?" queried Bob's cool voice beside her. "Is that little Forrest cat scratching you because you're sitting here with a left-over?"

"Does it matter what she thinks?" blazed Helen, and suddenly, as if in the flame of her own wrath, it was revealed to her that it didn't matter what Lucile Forrest thought or said. Helen saw Blake bowing stiffly as he released Lucile in the custody of her mother, and he came back across the floor, darkly handsome, his eyes on Helen. Her heart fluttered.

"He heard what Lucile said—he is sorry for me," came the quick thought, and Helen smiled and dipped at Blake's handsome, good-natured face as he stopped before her.

"I'm sorry, Blake—Bob and I are resting a bit," she said. Blake went off, flushed. He was not often refused for such a yoke as Bob Benson, and he would wait many a day before he asked Helen again. Helen knew it, and the knowledge left a sting in her heart.

"That was fine of you, Helen, to speak in that way, but you've ruined a good dance for yourself," Bob remonstrated.

"Shall we dance?" she smiled recklessly, and they danced! Bob did the best he could. He was eager to learn, and Helen found that, if she helped him along, he would improve greatly. But alas for her satin slippers!

"I'm not worth it," groaned Bob when it was over and he knelt down to polish her little slippers with his handkerchief. "You see, when I was in college, I was too busy grinding an education to indulge in any indoor sports—but I can skate and ski—how about it, Helen, will you go skating with me at Boddy's pond? The ice is perfect there and a full moon!"

"That sounds tempting," she laughed, "but I cannot skate!"

"I'll teach you to skate—and there will be some music there—and a peanut stand—and hot dogs! Do you like 'em?"

"I adore them."

She had forgotten all about handsome Blake Pettit, for Bob's blue eyes were holding her own steadfastly. The next evening was the happiest she had known. On the ice, Bob was at his best. Blake Pettit skated well, but Bob was without a peer. Under his guidance, Helen Amos found herself gliding across the steely ice as if on wings.

"Better than dancing, eh?" murmured Bob.

"Almost," she smiled, for Helen had always loved to dance. "Why, where are you going—what is the matter, Bob?" He did not answer but darted away like a swallow toward the upper end of the pond and a dark, ugly spot where a red muffler glowed.

"Man through the ice!" called someone as they raced past her. "Two of them," she heard another call. "It's Blake and Lucile." Helen was trembling all over when she reached the danger spot. She saw them take Blake out of Bob's dripping arms—saw him lift Lucile above the ice. Then the ice cracked with a sharp report, Bob had rescued two, and, wearied by the supreme effort had crumpled up and gone under.

Helen quietly fainted.

After what seemed a long, long time, she opened her eyes in the pavilion on the bank.

"Where is he?" asked Helen. "Is he safe?"

"Right as rain," chirruped Blake Pettit smugly.

"I mean Bob—where is Bob?" she asked fiercely.

"I'm all right, Helen," said Bob's big, quiet voice beside her, and then, she discovered that it was Bob who was behind her all the time, his hand holding a hot drink to her white lips.

A great peace came over her—the peace and joy of knowing that the one man in the world had spoken to her sleeping heart and awakened love. "Do not go away again," she murmured.

Bob laughed, a big satisfied laugh. "No one can scare me away from you as long as I live," he said softly, so that only they two could hear.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

FAIRY QUEEN'S TRIP

The Fairy Queen had not taken a trip in ever so long. So she went riding upon the broad back of Fly High, the Elves' bird, and saw much to interest her.

First she saw a little brown and white dog sitting in one chair while his master sat in another chair right by his side, on the front veranda of a house.

The dog was so proud of having a whole chair to himself, and sitting up seeing what was going on, just the same as anyone.

Now and again his master spoke and the dog said "Woo," in answer.

One time he saw a friend go by and he wagged his tail and spoke, "Oh, he was so proud sitting up by his master in a chair all by himself."

Then he saw another little dog who, unfortunately, snarled at his owner even though he really cared for his owner.

"Oh, dear," said the Fairy Queen, "that gives a dog and all animals so much trouble. He will be called treacherous, but it is his bad, snarling disposition, just as there are people who do not mean to be treacherous but who snarl and say harsh things to people they really love."

She saw a great big dog lying on another stoop and some little children stepped on the dog's tail and on his sensitive ears as they went by and oh, she really couldn't blame that dog for the growls he gave when children were so thoughtless and careless.

Then the Fairy Queen talked to an old horse who was covered up with a warm, faded blue and pink quilt which made him look so funny.

But he was good and warm and oh, his old mistress, who sold oranges from a wagon certainly shared what she had with him, even the old quilt so he could not get cold when he waited outside for her.

She stopped and saw an old furnace and the furnace said:

"I've got an appetite, a good appetite with the approach of cold weather."

"Oh, what an excellent appetite I have for coal when the cold days come."

Then the Fairy Queen saw a group of children and they were playing a game called, "Sister, this is a very solemn occasion."

They used each other's names after the word "sister," and they each tried to make the other laugh, but not to do so herself.

When anyone laughed she had to pay a forfeit and it was remarkable how hard it was to keep from laughing when someone said to you, in a very solemn voice:

"Sister Jane, this is a very solemn occasion."

Then the Fairy Queen saw Paddy, who was the dear little white dog.

He was begging for a piece of toast from Christine and first he went to one side of her chair and begged, putting his paws on her lap, and then he went to the other side.

He always seemed to think he might have better luck on her left side if she didn't feed him from the right side!

And then the Fairy Queen saw a group of boys rescue a kitten that was about to be hurt by a bulldog and they carried the kitten away with them, put it on a soft cushion, gave it milk and treated it so tenderly that the Fairy Queen said to herself:

"It was what I have always thought. The most manly boys are the kindest to little, helpless creatures."

And then, just before she went back to Fairyland, she stopped by and saw little Brother Bacon Junior, and heard him grunt. He had arrived since she had last seen the jolly pig family.

HOW I IMPROVED MY HEALTH

Did It in Less Than One Month

As Mrs. Weaver herself says, "I was never very strong." This is a mild statement describing her condition, for, according to her letters, she was subjected to no small amount of ill health. Fortunately, her sister was familiar with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begged Mrs. Weaver to try it. "After three or four weeks," writes Mrs. Weaver, "I felt a great difference in myself. I went to bed and sleep sound, and although I could not do very much work, I seemed stronger. I kept on taking it and now I am well and strong, do my work and take care of three children. I sure do tell my friends about your wonderful medicine, and I will answer any letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. LAWRENCE WEAVER, East Smithfield St., Mt. Pleasant, Pa.

If you knew that thousands of women suffering from troubles similar to those you are enduring had improved their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, wouldn't you think it was worth a trial?

In some families, the fourth generation is learning the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Remarkable Engraving

The Lord's Prayer, 60 words, 397 letters, counting punctuation marks, was engraved in 12 lines on the head of an ordinary pin by Charles Howard Baker of Spokane, Wash. Baker was at one time an employee of the United States government in the bureau of engraving and printing. He spent three years and eleven days completing this work.

FIRST to adopt DUCO

THE General Motors Research Laboratories cooperated with E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company, Inc., in the development of Duco—an achievement ranking in importance with the invention of the self-starter.

DUCO is not only far more lasting than paint and varnish; it is finer, more beautiful and more economical to apply in factory production.

DUCO was first adopted by Oakland, and immediately thereafter by the rest of the General Motors cars.

BUYERS of General Motors cars have profited by the development of this finer, more enduring finish. Their cars wear well longer.

This and That

First 24 Hours of Life
Baby's Hardest Time

By MARIE K. JOHNSON

Undernourishment is one of the most common of the causes of infant mortality, according to a survey recently undertaken in Chicago. Statistics show that of 4,522 babies under one year of age that died in 12 months, 988 died in the first 24 hours.

Marie K. Johnson

Eight hundred and seventy-six died in the first six days, exclusive of the first 24 hours, and 1,798 died from the seventh day to the sixth month. Eight hundred and sixty died in the last six months of the year. The survey indicated that a surprisingly large number of infants are artificially fed, which condition, doctors agree, had a marked bearing on their undernourished conditions. Naturally, no one food may prove satisfactory in every case, although the survey showed that evaporated milk in many cases had proved an excellent substitute for mother's milk. This may be explained by reason of the fact that evaporated milk is simply pure, concentrated cow's milk from which 60 per cent of the water has been removed. It contains practically every element necessary for good health and is consequently an excellent builder of bone and tissue.

Although authorities on health recommend evaporated milk as a baby food, like other substitutes for the natural supply, it should not be considered as a food complete in itself. Addition of orange or tomato juice, barley water or lime water is important in providing adequate diet for the infant.

For babies, milk of dependable purity is essential. Market milk will not keep for any length of time and is also liable to contamination, especially in hot weather, while evaporated milk, hermetically sealed in sterilized containers, remains as fresh and pure as on the day it was canned.

Sterility in evaporated milk, authorities agree, is one of the most important points in its favor. In processing, evaporated milk is subjected to 240 degrees heat for a half hour, thereby removing all possibility of bacterial life being present in the milk. Heat is the only preservative for this type of milk and the heat has the further beneficial effect of making the curds of milk more flocculent and easier to digest.

America Leads Nations In Use Of Ice Cream

If any one food may be considered as America's national dish, it is ice cream.

Ice cream is a food particularly adapted to the needs of individuals of all ages, giving as it does the best type of nutrients for the repair of bone, teeth, blood and muscles and for energy.

Today thousands of housewives make their own ice cream. As a consequence, the making of this highly nutritious food at a reduced cost, yet without in any way impairing the product, is of importance.

Home economists have found a means to this end in the use of evaporated milk. There are three important reasons why evaporated milk makes the best ice cream, they point out. Because 60 per cent of the natural water in evaporated milk has been removed by evaporation, there is over twice the percentage of solids present in this type of milk than there is in ordinary market milk—and, since it is the solids that give ice cream its pleasing flavor, this fact is of moment.

Then the composition of evaporated milk is constant, for the reason that it has been put through an homogenizing process, which breaks up the fat globules into tiny particles and distributes them evenly throughout the milk. This attribute makes for an ice-cream mixture of uniform quality and fine texture.

Finally, experts agree that the use of evaporated milk in ice cream contributes to its hygienic qualities, for the reason that evaporated milk is entirely sterile. Health authorities declare that milk and cream should be treated to a heat of 150 degrees F. for half an hour in order that a product may be produced free from infective organisms. Evaporated milk is processed at 240 degrees for 30 minutes, and therefore its introduction into an ice-cream mixture increases its purity in proportion to the amount of evaporated milk used.

During the warm summer weather, women should not be compelled to spend hours in the preparation of meals, when minutes would accomplish the same purpose. Planning week-end menus should be a congenial task, not a bore. At this time of the year there are a variety of nutritious vegetables and fruits to choose from in preparing meals and the modern home manager takes advantage of them. The housewife plans her summer menus so that they will suggest coolness, while at the same time taking into consideration their dietary value. A delicious cream soup made from fresh vegetables, or an omelet, a fresh fruit dessert, or a custard, a dish of ice cream, or a pudding, are nourishing items that should find high favor in the week-end menu.

The home manager enjoys her week-ends 100 per cent more when she has a few moments of leisure. And in this connection the following recipes may prove an aid.

Margery Maxwell, prima donna with the Chicago Civic and Ravinia opera companies, and who enjoys the distinction of being among the first American girls to be recognized in grand opera circles, takes particular pride in her culinary skill. Cooking, in her estimation, is a fine art which is rapidly being lost.

"Doubtless one of the big reasons for this condition is that modern young men don't expect the girls they marry to know much about cooking," said Miss Maxwell.

"In the future, before man pops the question, he's going to find out whether the girl knows what calories are and whether she's wise to the elements of a balanced diet.

"A few questions before the minister asks, 'Do you take this woman?' would save a thousand recriminations later.

There are certain dishes to which Miss Maxwell is partial. As she explains them, they are readily prepared. Miss Maxwell uses for Maryland Chicken.

Two 2½ lb. chickens
2 eggs
Salt
Pepper
1 cup evaporated milk diluted with 2 tbsp. flour

Dress, clean and cut up chickens. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, dip in crumbs, egg, and crumbs. Place in a well-oiled dripping pan, and bake twenty minutes in a 450-degree F. oven, then reduce the temperature to 350 degrees F. and cook until tender, about twenty minutes longer. Baste every ten minutes during cooking with ½ cup melted butter. Remove to platter and pour around a cream sauce made of fat in dripping pan, the flour, diluted milk, salt and pepper.

Asparagus en Fri.
1 bunch fresh asparagus
6 rounds toast
6 poached eggs
½ cup evaporated milk diluted with 2 tbsp. butter
1 tsp. salt
Pepper
½ cup grated cheese

Prepare a white sauce of the butter, flour, salt, pepper and diluted milk. Cook the asparagus in boiling salted water. Drain and add to white sauce. Place a poached egg in center of toast. Pour asparagus around the egg and sprinkle grated cheese over top of all. Serve at once. Serves six.

Creamy Salad Dressing.
1 cup boiled or mayonnaise
1 cup cold water
2 eggs, beaten
½ cup evaporated milk
Combine evaporated milk and cream, chill and whip. Add sugar and juice, then fold into salad dressing. Especially nice for fruit salads.

Chocolate Velvet Cream.

½ cup evaporated milk diluted with 2 tbsp. water
Soak gelatin in water five minutes. Mix beaten egg yolks and sugar, pour heated, diluted milk over slowly, put in double boiler with gelatin, butter and salt. Cook until the mixture thickens. This takes about 15 minutes. Strain, beat 2 minutes, let cool. Melt the chocolate over hot water, let cool a little, then add the chocolate and vanilla to the mixture after it has cooled. Fold in the stiff egg whites, then the whipped cream. Turn into a mold and chill at least 3 hours. It may be chilled in individual dessert glasses.

BALBOA THEATRE

"The Gods." The title's significant for more than one reason. Principally because it figures as a milestone in Thomas Meighan's career.

The picture comes to the Balboa

Theatre for one week, starting Friday.

Adding and abetting him in his efforts, is a huge cast headed by the two featured players, Aileen Pringle and Renee Adoree; William Powell,

Hale Hamilton and John Harrington.

Allan Dwyer directed. William Anthony McGuire is the author of the play from which it was adapted by

Paul Dickoy and Howard Emmett

Rogers.

Fanchon and Marco offer their latest

"Specialty Idea," as excellent and unusual diversification for the Balboa Theatre this week. They have gathered together a group of foremost entertainers, well known for their work over the West Coast circuit.

Among the principals are Armstrong and Phelps, who open with some good humorous piano and song numbers. Both boys are said to have good voices. Reeves and Lou, are a novelty dance team, whose funniest stunt finds them dancing in one large pair of pants. Holly Hawn, blues singer, offers "Sitting Around Alone," for her feature number.

The Sunkist Beauties are scheduled to appear in a "Silhouette Dance,"

a novelty, entirely new to stage presentations, and ensemble dances that lend promise of capturing the house.

Al Lyons and His Balboa Orchestra

have arranged a musical score combining the presentation with a group of featured melodies, light and airy in motif. The popular new director and his orchestra are expected to achieve their usual weekly triumphs with the opening of this week's splendid bill.

CABRILLO THEATRE

Edwin Carewe used perfect screen judgement when he cast Lloyd

Hughes and Dolores del Rio in the leading roles of his latest First National production, "Pals First." The picture comes to the Cabrillo Theatre for one week starting Friday.

It would be impossible to find two other players as exactly suited for the parts they play in this excellent motion picture. Lloyd Hughes as

"Danny Rowland, a 'hobo' forger, gives one of the finest portrayals he has yet offered to the screen.

Alec Francis as Dominic Blair, an outcast and a thief who finally discovers the straight and narrow, is first rate, and George Cooper, third of the pals, as a pseudo Italian count, carries off all the comedy honors.

Raymond Godden will occupy a feature place in the spotlight with a musical program of well-known favorites, played on the organ.

The Ladies Bargain Matinee on Wednesday is proving popular with feminine patrons. Friday evening draws its share of the crowds for

'Gift Nite,' an innovation recently established by Manager H. L. Hartman.

STUDENTS CLUBS

The clubs at Pt. Loma last year were of great benefit to the students. They made it possible for each student to belong to some organization and to do something along the special line in which he was interested. They offered an opportunity for many students to hold an office or act on a committee and the responsibility made them more interested in the clubs. The organizations also created a fine social spirit among the members. The clubs were: Shavers Club for older boys, Tes Trans for older girls, Art Club, Glee Club, Printers' Club, Science Club, Etiquette Club, Cartoon Club, Girl Scouts, Girl Reserves, and amp Fire Girls. The Clubs have not yet been organized for this year.

O. B. LIBRARY

MARGARET RANKIN, LIBRARIAN

The O. B. Branch Library has the following new rent books which are unusually popular: — "Sinister House," by Charles G. Booth, a mystery story of Southern California, with excellent plot and lifelike characters.

Mr. Booth has been a resident of Ocean Beach for a number of years and has made many friends who will be anxious to read this thrilling book.

A delightful novel, a sequel to "Mr. and Mrs. Sen." The charming Mrs. Sen and her children, Ruben and Ivy, are the central figures of this new story which treats dramatically of the results of marriage between East and West. With truth and clarity the author pictures the struggle of great emotions and greater instincts against both an English background and Chinese settings. "Gentleman Prefer Blondes," Anita Loos, also by a San Diego writer. It is a very clever satire and is exceptionally popular.

SCHOOL DAYS

Mother's Cook Book

No matter how beautiful the homes, or how exquisite the furnishings, if pure air does not circulate in every room, the family suffers.

WHOLE SOME DISHES

THE summer squash provides an other vegetable to add variety. Cook in peeling and all, as long as it is tender enough to pierce with the thumb nail. Cook in as little water as possible after slicing; do not remove seeds. Season well with plenty of butter and salt and pepper. Serve hot and the whole family will enjoy it. Do not serve summer squash if you cannot afford plenty of butter on it, as otherwise it is flat and tasteless.

Rice With Pineapple

Cook rice slightly salted until tender and flaky, adding a little milk at a time after it has been cooking until nearly dry in water, season with butter, and sugar, a bit of grated nutmeg and the yolks of two eggs. Heat in a mound and serve garnished with rings of pineapple. If the crushed pineapple is used stir it into the rice and serve a spoonful or two on top.

French Method of Cooking Peas.

Put two large lettuce leaves in the bottom of a kettle or saucepan; on these place the peas to be cooked, with one small onion. The flavors of these vegetables do not predominate, but only enhance the flavor of the peas. Pea pods are saved and cooked and the water used to cook the peas in, which makes a much more pronounced flavor.

Cherry Fritters.

Make a batter of a cupful and a half of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a half teaspoonful of salt, one-half cupful of milk and an egg, beat until smooth, adding more milk if needed; lastly add a cupful of pitted cherries which have been covered with sugar for an hour, then drained from the syrup. Drop by spoonfuls into hot fat and fry a golden brown. Serve with the sauce made from the juice of the cherries.

THE UNDER-DOG

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

MY SYMPATHIES are always with the ordinary sort of person. My sympathies are all with Smith. Not Algernon Fitzroy MacPherson. The common road I like to jog. And help the rest, at least I try to. And no one loves the underdog. I know, the least bit more than I do.

In fact I frequently jump in. (That is, I often used to do it) And help the underdog to win. When he's in trouble, help him through it. I used to—but I grieve to tell. Just how the matter often ended! But I've been bitten much and well my underdogs I have befriended.

I hope I won't appear unkind. But I am getting rather wary. And, when an underdog I find, Instead of (as is customary) Assuming he's the really straight, The underdog the evil-hearted, I often now investigate. And find just how the trouble started.

In underdogs we all believe; I hate to see convictions shaken; And yet I was (although I grieve To say it) now and then mistaken. There were occasions all along. When other dogs would bite and chew him. The underdog was really wrong. And getting what was coming to him.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

PARCHMENT

WE ARE all familiar with parchment and its imitation parchment paper from their use in making lamp shades and for other decorative purposes. The original use of parchment, however, was strictly utilitarian, the genuine and original parchment being the skin of a sheep or goat which men in an early period of their history prepared for material to write on.

The invention of parchment is credited to Eumenes II, king of Pergamum, in Asia Minor, in the second century B. C., the circumstance being the prohibition by Ptolemy of Egypt of the exportation of papyrus, the contemporary writing material. In other words, the invention of parchment was the outcome of Egyptian conservation of home products.

The manufacture of parchment rose to great importance in Rome and its use spread all over Europe and continued until the invention of paper made from rags. It is from its birthplace, Pergamum, that the name "parchment" is derived, through the Latin, "pergamina," and subsequently the French "parchment."

Drew Revolver Only With Deadly Purpose

The old-time cowboy seldom touched his weapon or its holster unless to draw and shoot, for witless fondling might invite a shot, and, unlike the bad man, he almost never carried more than a single gun. Not only was a second gun cumbersome, but it denoted a state of war or of armed neutrality. Getting the drop and then not firing was what the Texan and the westerner, unlike the synthetic puncher, rarely bothered to attempt. Usually the Texan or the westerner, when he seriously drew a weapon, did so with the purpose of giving "a lead ticket to Gehenna Junction." Employment of the pistol as a means of admonishing strangers' feet and inviting them to dance, or as an instrument for either fanning hats or smiting barroom lumps occurred so seldom as to have amounted to little more than the foundation of amusing legend, but it has become, upon both the motion-picture screen and the printed page, one of the cowboy's diurnal functions. Saturday Evening Post.

GIRLIGAGS

"The fact that there are two sides to every question isn't anything to brag about," says sapient Sally. "That's just what causes all the trouble."

Community Building

Duty of Citizens to

Work in Association

The city would profit greatly from a cultivation of the spirit of neighborhood pride, to keep their own premises in order, and beautiful, and also to work in association with one another to beautify the entire neighborhood in accordance with an agreed-on plan, says the Indianapolis News. A great deal could be done in this way through private effort, and in the doing of such a work in such a way we should learn to value more than we do now individual initiative. Also there would be a development of neighborhood spirit which would make for better citizenship.

It ought not to be difficult to organize—in as loose a way as might be thought desirable—neighborhood associations for the carrying out of what is as much a neighborhood as a municipal purpose. The coming-together of neighbors to consider ways and means and methods would itself be helpful. It would be worth much for the citizen to realize that he is not dependent on government for everything he wants, and to discover that there is a great deal that he can do for himself. But, of course, beauty is the prime object to be sought, a beauty that would undoubtedly spread from neighborhood to neighborhood. Perhaps there are such associations already. There can hardly be too many of them.

"Get Together" Spirit

Builds Up Community

There are little communities dotted here and there all over our vast country which are dull and uninteresting because they are a mere aggregation of individuals and not a community, as such. "A real community is a number of people so united in spirit and so interested in the advancement of their town that they are willing to drop their little differences and unite to form one great brotherhood."

If your town is dull it is because there is no organized effort to overcome that dullness. If the people who go about bemoaning the bareness of life in the rural districts would just meet together and in a sane, hearty way face the proposition, they would discover avenues of development of which they never dreamed. Wherever there are three or four families in a group there is almost invariably talent which will make for the welfare of all concerned. No community appreciates its resources until it places the social emphasis on its community life. Unsuspected talent is displayed when team work is adopted. Men and women who have never been tested are drawn out by the inspiration of doing something in common with others. Marion Dallas in Montreal Family Herald.

Neighborhood Enterprise

There is no reason why the citizen should look to the city government to do everything for him. It is doing much as it is—perhaps too much. People residing in a certain stretch of street—say a few blocks in length—could easily, and at low cost, through combined action, make the whole neighborhood, both inside and outside the property line, beautiful beyond anything now imagined. Other neighborhoods would be quick to follow the example, and the whole city would be the gainer. The streets thus improved and cared for would be more desirable than they are now, residence in them would be sought and prized, and as a result property values would advance. From whatever point of view the matter is looked at, the effect would be good. Indianapolis News.

Eye to Property Value

People who are most vociferous in their appreciation of the sentimental values of their homes, who let it be known to all and sundry that they would never sell their home because of old associations, are frequently the readiest to sell if they get what they call a "good offer." They are really good salesmen, and their boasted affection for their homes is merely good sales talk. While this attitude may be a little calloused, there are few of us who do not keep a weather eye upon real estate values. We are proud and pleased when there is a "boom" in our immediate neighborhood. And rightly so. We are pleased whenever the property value of our home advances, because it has materially increased our potential estate, and proud that our purchase has proved to be a wise investment.

Protect Home Investment

It is indeed curious that, while we avoid, in so far as we can, any depreciation of our other investments, many of us do not adequately protect our home investment. We are constantly paying "neglect taxes" on our properties, which may be greater some years than the government taxes. Some idea of the extent of our carelessness may be gained from the knowledge that repairs to property, due entirely to neglect, cost American property owners about $1,800,000,000 a year. This truly appalling figure indicates a very deplorable condition. It is a sum nearly four times as great as the annual fire loss. Exchange.

Says Tanlac Spells Health

Mother of 4 Children Escapes Serious Condition Caused by Nervousness, Gastritis, Dizzy Spells. Strength Restored, Gains 12 Pounds

Many women endure pain and suffering needlessly. As Mrs. Mattie Franklin, 1054 Georgia Street, Los Angeles, California, recently said: "A mother must have good health. For years I suffered from nervousness, run-down condition. My appetite was never good. Stomach pains and nervous spells followed every meal. And I was quite unfit to do my housework. All the remedies I tried failed to help me. I wasted away until I was down to 95 pounds. Then Tanlac came to the rescue. I found myself feeling like a new woman. I gained 12 pounds and felt stronger. And now when I feel less energetic I take Tanlac. To me this wonderful tonic spells h-e-a-l-t-h."

Tanlac, nature's remedy made from roots, barks and herbs according to the famous Tanlac formula, usually builds strength and good health. First bottle gives amazing results. At druggists. Over 40 million bottles sold.

First Thing He Knew About the Accident

There had been a minor accident and a slight interruption in the flow of traffic. Complaint came in a stream from the mouth of the driver of a small car. The patrolman lent an ear. The young man, the victim, stood still, looking faintly amused.

When the driver had worn himself out, the patrolman turned to the young man.

"Well," he said, "you tell your side of the story."

The youth regarded him, took a cigarette from his lips, and cast it carefully into the gutter. The gesture was one of easy arrogance.

"Why," he explained, "I was crossing the street, I felt something brush me, and when I looked up I found this fellow's—er—car on my foot."

BOLERO STYLING IS FEATURED; PAJAMAS ARE MUCH IN FAVOR

MORE and more as the new styles come in one realizes that the bolero is being accorded a flattering amount of attention in the realm of dress design. A very charming styling does the bolero impart. One of the distinguishing points about the bolero is, it can be interpreted in an exceedingly conventional tailored way or it can be made to look too utterly cunning and dressy for words. And is it youthful in appearance? For answer in the affirmative, don a bolero frock, then look at your reflection in the mirror.

It has become an established fact in regard to the near-future modes that they are to be extremely ornate and dressy. The bolero handling is right in harmony with this trend to elaboration, for it calls for more than touch of the tailored bolero dress. Now that the fair sex has made up its mind that pajamas are quite to its liking, nothing short of amazing are the style developments which have followed in the wake of this vogue. One may be ever so conservative in most matters pertaining to dress, but when it comes to the subject of pajamas one is expected, you encouraged, to give full play to all those secret longings for gay color and bizarre effect which every woman more or less must cherish and desire to gratify.

So it is, that no material is too elegant, no color too extreme, no decorative feature too elaborate for the styling of the modern pajama. Recently the mode has taken a turn for long straight trousers of tailored one fabric and gracefully yields to any amount of ornamentation. The beautiful frock in the picture is an excellent example of how artfully a bolero costume may be contrived. This suit-dress is made of navy chambray, the bolero posed over a waist of black crepe satin, the same heavily embroidered with silver applique. Silver ribbon with a narrow edging of seal outlines the bolero. The sleeves disclose an elaborate treatment about the wrist and the gypsy sash is gayly fringed in multicolor and silver. The skirt follows the very short narrow youthful silhouette.

Very practical and wearable are aspect surmounted by a long coat of flamboyant coloring and styling. The very handsome pajama version here pictured is illustrative of the new trend. It has a three-quarter-length coat of gay print crepe de chine offsetting charming green satin trousers. There is a graceful bordering of the satin about the coat with broad cuffs of the same finishing the sleeves and reflecting the cuffs about the trousers.

Conspicuously handsome is a jacket of gorgeously printed satin, topping trousers of black satin, which are cuffed with the print. By the way, unusual cuff treatments are an out-the neat cloth, crepe or satin bolero dresses which are usually in navy or black, with waists of flesh-colored silk styled in a strictly tailored way. There is usually a turnover round collar and wide turnback cuffs of the waist material. Just a bit dressier becomes the effect if all-over lace be used instead of the tailored satin.

Sometimes the bolero idea is combined with that of the multi-tiered skirt and there is a convincing presence of utmost modishness in a costume thus designed.

For the schoolgirl the contrasting waist is very effective and youthful when of plaid taffeta. The vogue for navy blue continues and wool crepe in this always genteel and pleasing color makes up handsomely in the bolero styling. Clever narrow belts give a smart and indeed, a very pleasing standing feature among recent pajama creations.

Contrasting the pajama of regal splendor, which flaunts rare oriental embroideries and magnificent weaves with much gold and silver adornment, are the daintier lace types so alluring in delicate tint, fluttering ribbons and adorable bouquets achieved by exquisite handwork. Often the edges of coat and trousers are finished with fine net footing instead of lace. Quite likely the pocket on the blouse will be an applique of a cunning flower basket.

Dyed all-over lace makes a filmy sheer flowing coat, to wear over a crepe or satin pajama of some delectable shade. Of more formal beauty is the coatee of metal lace, topping trousers of some rich toned hue.

Useful Hammer

If you are the handy man of the family you'll welcome a nail-holding hammer especially designed for driving nails into awkward places. The nail is shipped in a groove in the top of the hammer and held tight in place by two projections operated by springs. One blow of the hammer starts the nail, after which the hammer can be pulled away.—Popular Science Monthly.

Strange Black Cat

Two girls of the dapper type and their boy friend were motoring near Gosport not long ago when one of the girls uttered a scream.

"There went a black cat across the road," she cried, "and now we'll have some kind of bad luck."

Whereupon the other girl announced a new angle to an old tradition. Somebody had told her that if the cat should be captured the jinx would be broken. Well, the cat was sitting by the roadside not far away. It seemed to be gentle and mild mannered. With one accord they climbed out of the car and started in the general direction of the kitty. They snatched at the kitty and spoke to it in dulcet tones. Then they made a rush to see which could catch it first.

(The curtain will be lowered a moment to denote the passing of a considerable period of time.)

After the boy friend had taken the girls to their homes, he went out and buried his clothes. The black cat was a skunk.—Indianapolis News.

Age of Luxuries

Not to be entirely outdone by reports of purchases of solid gold dinner plates at very high prices, a special order has just been placed in New York by a certain woman for teaspoons of the solid metal at $500 a dozen. In another case an order has been sent in to a well-known concern in New York calling for six fancy goblets wrought in solid gold. Just what they will cost the purchaser was not known, as the price had not been calculated for the style of goblet wanted. That this is a minor factor in the transaction, however, is indicated by the fact that the order was "signed, sealed and delivered" by the purchaser on the assurance of the selling house that it could be executed as desired.

Woman Smokers Afflicted

Dr. Herman Prinz, professor of therapeutics at the University of Pennsylvania, says that in some parts of the Orient, where women smoke more even than the men do, they are great sufferers from cancer of the mouth. Fifty per cent of the cases of cancer of the mouth, he maintains, is caused by the use of tobacco.

In Norway more than 1,000 water power plants are being used for the production of more than 1,800,000 electric horsepower.

Too Much "Acid?"

Excess Uric Acid Gives Rise to Many Unpleasant Troubles.

AUTHORITIES agree that an excess of uric acid is primarily due to faulty kidney action. Retention of this toxic material often makes its presence felt by sore, painful joints, a tired, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backache and headache. That the kidneys are not functioning right is often shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Thousands assist their kidneys at such times by the use of Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Doan's are recommended by many local people. Ask your neighbor!

TRIBUTE TO THE LAMENTED

DR. GEORGE M. SELBY

Written for "The Beach News"

In the recent demise of Dr. George Messick Selby, the people of Five Points and vicinity have lost a man who had given himself tirelessly to the upbuilding of the community. Coming to San Diego last November with the intention of locating for the practice of medicine and surgery, he spent several weeks driving over the city in search of a desirable location and each time he passed along the intersection of Moore and California streets (now spanned by the electric sign bearing the words "Five Points"), he was increasingly impressed with two things: The fact that there was need of a physician and surgeon on the bay-side section, connecting the city with the beaches, and with the possibilities of this particular district.

About the first of December, Dr. Selby purchased the lots and began the erection of the Selby building at 3783-3789 California street. Although deeply interested in the erection of his home and office and increasingly busy with professional practice, the size of which proved that a physician was needed there, he took much time to discuss with the residents the possibilities of the place, and the desirability of securing a suitable name for it with the result that by the first of January it was officially named "Five Points." He soon afterward called a meeting of citizens interested in this locality and early in February had succeeded in interesting them to such an extent that the Five Points Civic League was organized; money collected for an electric sign, and a contract let for the same, while numerous improvements (many of them now completed or under way) were initiated. And, by the time the Selby Building was completed, the real estate world in San Diego was setting up and taking notice of Five Points.

But Dr. Selby had given too much of himself to these various tasks, and all summer he had complained of being tired too tired for accepting some of the duties of his profession, although the last month his office was open he struggled heroically to care for anyone who seemed to need his care, many times lapsing into unconsciousness in his office after some special effort. On September 9th he collapsed completely and was removed to the Balboa Sanitarium, where his physician found that he was passing simply from overwork, a post mortem showing that years of continuous exertion had fatally affected his vitality. Dr. Selby had not had the benefit of a real vacation since his return from the army in the spring of 1919. This resulted in arterio sclerosis of the spinal cord and brain. He had literally worked himself to death.

Although busied with many cares, Dr. Selby had found great pleasure in helping organize the Wyoming state Society here at his new home last May. The fourteen years he had spent in the practice of medicine and surgery at Sheridan, Wyoming, had greatly endeared that state to him, and he was ever on the lookout for former Wyoming residents, carrying a little note book in which to enter their names and addresses.

George Messick Selby was born at Tunnelton, Ind., Sept. 21, 1879, the son of George Washington Selby and his second wife, Mrs. Margaret Gainey Messick. He was reared in Lawrence County, Indiana, and attended Indiana University for two years, being a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity there. He took his medical training at Louisville Medical College, from which institution he was graduated with honors in 1902. He was a member of the Phi Beta Phi medical fraternity. The summer following his graduation he located at Red Key, Ind., where he practiced for nine years. On June 15, 1905, at Franklin, Ind., he was married to Miss Mary Griswold Hall, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Hall. Dr. Hall being vice-president of Franklin College and a Greek scholar of note. To this union one son, Horace Hall Selby was born, and is now in young manhood, immeasurably bereaved with his widowed mother over their great loss, in which both have the deepest sympathy of the entire community.

In 1911, owing to unimpaired health, Dr. Selby sought the West, locating at Sheridan, Wyoming, where he lived and worked until he sold his home and practice in the summer of 1925, and after a few weeks post graduate work came to San Diego. Dr. Selby was an Elk, a member of Lodge No. 520 at Sheridan, Wyo., and an ardent Mason, being both a Shriner and a Scottish Rite man. He had just recently become a member of the Sigma Nu Alumni Club of San Diego. He was a member of the American Legion, the Officers Reserve and the staff of Evacuation Hospital No. 9. During 1913 he was in charge, as First Lieutenant of Ft. MacKenzie Hospital, Wyoming, and for a brief period in 1918 was station at Ft. Winfield Scott, with the rank of captain. He was a member of the San Diego County Medical Society. The funeral services in charge of the Masonic fraternity were held on Friday afternoon, Oct. 1, interment being made at Greenwood in the Masonic plot. There were many elaborate and beautiful floral tokens.

ward and Kuestenstow court, where a meeting will be held this Saturday evening, October 9, at 7:30 p. m. to which all boys of suitable age are cordially invited. Eighteen boys were present at the initial meeting last Saturday evening including one Eagle and one Star scout. A great deal of interest is manifested and the boys are eagerly studying the manual in order to pass their examinations. Trusteeships were taken by Mr. J. W. Harris and Mr. Harry K. Turner, who with Mr. Coker last Saturday evening took the boys over to the scout headquarters in the Indian Village in Balboa Park. This is a splendid movement in which all boys are interested. With the unparalleled opportunities for water sports of bay and ocean and other out-of-door activities the Mission Beach troupe should stand second to none. Many thanks are due to the gentlemen through whose efforts the troupe has been organized.

Now, ladies, who will come forth and do as much for our girls?
